A Personal Message from Gus Noble President – Chicago Scots

It's easy to feel overwhelmed by the news – COVID-19 pandemic, social distancing, markets crashing, and abundances of caution.

We live in turbulent times, but it is reassuring to know that some things remain steadfast. Since 1845, despite great wars, fires, depressions and other challenges, this community has prevailed. That's because we've stayed true to our values and our roots. Here's what I know to be true: for 175 years, this community has delivered life's most important things – home, family and love. And that's what we'll continue to do.

In these times of heightened sensitivity to the corona virus, particularly in the field of senior care, we remain committed to best practices and to being informed on the very latest guidance from health experts. This might mean more inconvenient precautions and procedures at Caledonia Senior Living. But nothing is more important to us than the people who live and work here. We care deeply about them. Caring is in our DNA. It's why generations of families have trusted us to care for their loved ones.

On behalf of the Chicago Scots and everyone at Caledonia Senior Living and Memory Care, I wish you and your loved ones good health now and in the times ahead. Be well.

With friendship Aye,
Gus Noble
President
